kickstart professional careers for low-income students

Saturday, June 25th - 10:00 am to 3:30 pm

Low-income students face educational and opportunity barriers. Our students are often the first in their families to pursue a professional career and don't have access to resources, information, and opportunities others take for granted. Dreaming big and seeing possibilities beyond their current circumstances is essential for low-income students to reach their full potential.

The Career Incubator is a one-day event dedicated to helping low-income students imagine a different future for themselves and take steps to make it their reality. Students can attend various sessions with successful professionals who share similar backgrounds. Panelists and speakers share insights, discuss challenges and provide inspiration. The panels are small, so students feel comfortable engaging and building connections with professionals.

If you are a company committed to shaping a different future, join us as a partner. The Career Incubator provides your company with the unique opportunity to influence a highly selective group of the best and brightest future leaders in Southern California. If they can see it, they can become it.

Partner for a Panel

Access to resources, even simple awareness of possibilities, allows our students to imagine a different future for themselves. All of our students are driven and determined to change the future for themselves and their families.

This one-day event will feature over eighteen sessions led by successful professionals like you. Each session will illuminate the diverse array of careers and paths available to students. We will work with you to design an informative, interactive, and engaging session. Those who become financial sponsors for the event will have ongoing access to our students through our alumni platform.

Below are some examples of previous panels:

Example 1. Quiet on the Set!

Have you wondered how entertainment companies tell stories across movies, television, film, comics, and theater? Join us for an exclusive look into various careers in entertainment.

Example 2. Let's be Real: Corporate America Edition

Life as a person of color (POC) in America is a challenge in itself, so imagine how daunting it can be navigating the corporate culture. Join our diverse panel as they share their experiences and offer advice on how to thrive within Corporate America.

Example 3. Order in the Court

Want to learn more about the law and the civil courts? Are you interested in a law field but still have reasonable doubt? Join our panel for an exclusive look into local and national legal systems.

Example 4. Charge Up, LA!

Do you have a passion for sports? Do you want to make it into a career but don't know where to start? Whether you are passionate about football, basketball, soccer, or other sports, you do not want to miss this exclusive opportunity to learn about careers in the sports industry.

Invest in Future Talent and Become a Sponsor

Demonstrate your commitment to diversity, inclusion, and equity by becoming a financial sponsor for this important event. Various levels of sponsorship are available.
